RE: Record Check for Volunteers

The Praxis Society's vision is to provide positive science experiences to the residents of South Eastern Alberta, especially the youth, through the provision of access to science and technology resources.

We are a vital link between the educational and science community. The sciences are changing so quickly that it is difficult to be an expert in all areas. This is where the Praxis can help. Our database includes volunteers that are eager to help by acting as "experts in the classroom".

At times volunteers may be involved with students when they are not being supervised by an educator, and therefore they need to obtain a police record check. As well, some of our volunteers may have access to student information, and this too will require a police record check.

If you could please provide a police record check for the following volunteer it would be greatly appreciated.
